The Journalism Class of
Marquette High School
Presents The
"1986 Marquette Explorer"

Dare To Dream

Dare to dream,
Never let dreams die,
Pursue them forever—
Reach up touch the sky.

Dream your dreams big,
Don't be afraid,
Believe in yourself,
Don't let dreams fade.

Be realistic,
Discover what you desire,
Then go after your dream,
Climb higher and higher.

If you feel unsure,
Cast all doubts aside,
Search out your dreams,
Look far and wide.

When one dream is fulfilled,
Try to accomplish one more,
For the world is just waiting,
With its huge open door.

If the road is long,
Smile and look ahead,
If someone laughs at your dream,
Don't dwell on what he said.

Above all never stop dreaming — when some dreams don't come true, 'cause when you stop dreaming . . .
You lose that part of yourself that dreams,

A BIG PART OF YOU!!

Future Business Leaders of America

Well, my friend, as the saying goes, it's time for us to move on. That's right, it's us this time. Can you believe it? Kind of scary isn't it? Boy, we sure have grown a lot since freshmen year. We went from freshmen frazzlement to senior insanity. But you know what the neatest part of it is? We did all of it together. We laughed together . . . and cried. But most of all, we shared the special gifts and qualities each of us has. You've made me what I am today, friend. The future? Are you ready? Let's let some other people experience the neat things we have shared at good ol' MHS. I think everything's going to be okay. I know that I can make it, and you can, too. We've got to show the world how we've made each other strong. No matter what happens, we'll always be together, you and I, because you're a very special part of me. I'll never let that part go. I'm still going to miss you when we're apart, but I'll never forget you . . . and all of those memories.

Hey, guess what? The bell just rang. Everyone's pushing me out the door . . . into the world. Wait! One more thing . . .

. . . Good luck! Take care of yourself.

And by the way, Thanks.
